SUB-COMMITTEE
HEARS EVIDENCE
IN MILLER CASE

Declines to Grant Further Continuance to Protestants at Close of Hearing

EXPECT SAME REPORT

Indicated that Sub-committee Would Report to Judiciary Committee For Miller

WITNESSES DELAYED
Washington, Jan. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Witnesses called to appear before the senate judiciary sub-committee in the Miller case today, were prevented by a snowstorm from reporting. The committee adjourned. It is understood that the sub-committee will renew its favorable recommendations.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The senate sub-committee's hearing on the charges against Andrew Miller, of Bismarck, nominated by President Harding to be United States district judge for North Dakota, was held behind closed doors.

At the close of the hearing the protesters asked for more time in which to find witnesses to bring to Washington to substantiate the charges they had made. It was stated by members of the sub-committee that the committee had had ten months in which to prepare the case, that repeated continuances had been granted and that the sub-committee would not grant further time but would report to the full committee next Monday morning.

It was expected that the protesters would take some action today in furtherance of their case.

Senator Ashurst was absent from the sub-committee yesterday, Senator Walsh, of Montana, taking his place. Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, chairman of the full judiciary committee, was present at the hearing.

Two witnesses were called by the protesters. They were P. P. Mounts, of Bismarck, N. D., who testified regarding new allegations of the committee. E. A. Hughes, of Bismarck, was called but was excused by the committee on his statement that he had no personal knowledge of the matters charged. Under Olson, of Fargo, Republican national committeeman, was called in behalf of Miller, giving testimony in his favor. A letter was introduced from former Governor L. B. Hanna in Miller's behalf in the matter of charges against Miller while Hanna was Governor.

L. E. Peterson, who was subpoenaed by the committee, was reported as being ill and unable to appear at the hearing which began at 2 p. m.

It was generally expected that the sub-committee would make a report favoring Miller in line with its previous report to the judiciary committee.

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 28.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor Len Small should be granted a separate trial on the charge of embezzlement of state funds, so his charge would not be belogged by any issues involving his fellow defendants, Vernon Curtis, attorney for the governor, told Judge Claire C. Edwards today.

A similar motion was filed on behalf of Mr. Curtis.

Honor System In Examinations Is Adopted By Students

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 28.—Law students of the University of North Dakota, at a mass meeting, voted unanimously to adopt the honor system in examinations, and to give it a trial this semester. This system places students on their honor during examinations, each promising to give or receive no help during the examination. They are not placed under the supervision of a faculty member. A committee was appointed to take charge of the test, check up results and report to the faculty. If the plan proves successful, it is planned to adopt it from this year on.

WORLD'S MOST NOTED BLIND FOLK MEET

HELEN KELLER (RIGHT) CONVERSING WITH WILLETTA HUGGINS. WILLETTA UNDERSTANDS BY PLACING HER HAND ON MISS KELLER'S CHEST WHILE MISS KELLER READS WILLETTA'S LIPS.

BY NEA Service

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—The world's most famous blind and deaf persons have met here for the first time.

One is Helen Keller, 40, blind and deaf since she was an infant.

The other is Willetta Huggins, 16, blind since she was ten and deaf since she was 12.

And each exclaimed of the other: "She's the most wonderful person I ever met."

And both were right.

For little Miss Huggins can see with her nose and hear with her fingers.

She can place her finger over the diaphragm of a telephone and hear what's said on the line.

She can tell the color of cloth by smelling it.

She can take six new bank notes from six persons and return each to its owner by smelling the note and the owner's hands.

She can hear you talk by putting her fingers on your chest.

And Helen Keller has completed a course of higher university education.

Learned to read, write and talk with her fingers.

Written a book about her life.

Miss Huggins is a pupil of the eighth grade of the Wisconsin state institution for the blind at Janesville.

Miss Keller is touring the country showing that there's a place in life for the blind and deaf.

The two conversed more than an hour here.

And now they're going to write to each other regularly.

'KOW KARNIVAL'
BRINGS DAIRY
MEN TOGETHER

State Officials Join in Mandan Affair to Boost Dairying in Slope Country

BANQUET IS GIVEN

Curtis Mosher of Federal Reserve Bank Speaks on Business Prospects

The "Kow Karnival" concluded in Mandan last night with a large attendance of business men and farmers, with Governor Nestos, Commissioner of Agriculture Kitchen, Secretary of State Hall and Dairy Commissioner Flint in attendance.

A banquet was served and the Town Criers furnished novel and interesting entertainment, including the "nut quartette's" selections. The state officials and others were rung with bells, which ding-donged regularly during the dinner.

Governor Nestos, Mr. Hall, Mr. Kitchen and Mr. Flint also spoke informally, congratulating the farmers west of the river for their remarkable successful dairy center work. John Christensen, of New Salem, told of his settling on the homestead near New Salem and the building up of the dairying center. Heads and representatives of other dairying centers spoke.

Prakes Progressive Spirit.
Mr. Hall today praised the work done by these pioneers in dairying, saying that "I don't know of a more progressive bunch of people anywhere than these leaders of the Holstein circuit west of the river."

E. W. Bennett, of the Northern Pacific, gave the farmers valuable information on the method of shipping milk cans, avoiding troubles and reducing expenses.

The "Kow Karnival" opened in the afternoon in the Mandan Commercial club rooms, the affair being sponsored by the Town Criers.

Mosher Speaks.
Curtis L. Mosher, district leader of the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapolis, who was slated to appear on the program last evening found a change in his plans necessary. He delivered his address in the afternoon.

Mr. Mosher started off by saying "prosperity is not accidental. It must depend upon some definite facts. The business of the Ninth Federal Reserve district is farming, stockraising and dairying, and all other businesses are small in comparison."

Prosperity comes with the condition of the market on agricultural products, the speaker said, and then in a remarkably clear manner he summed up the whole situation in the mid-northwestern states.

"The recovery will be slow, but we are now on the upward trend and there is good reason to believe that the worst is over. Every man in the nation back on his business as farmers, dairymen and stockraisers."

Mr. Mosher complimented the bankers did not take advantage of the opportunities offered under the federal reserve bank act, for the "800 banks in the state only 185 are members of the federal reserve system, yet despite this even non-members have been assisted."

Flint Chairman.
State Dairy Commissioner Robert F. Flint was chosen as chairman for the afternoon session. "Field Crops," "Feeds and Feeding," "Sanitary Milk Production," were among the topics under general discussion.

Major C. L. Hanson was injured last night when the automobile he was driving turned over at the railroad crossing west of the city.

He was injured about the legs and back, and was taken to a local hospital, where examination of his injuries was being made with X-ray today. It was said that his leg had not been broken as was at first feared.

Details of the accident are not clear. Major Hanson approached the crossing about train time, it is said. It is not believed the auto in which he was riding alone was struck by the train, but it is believed he turned sharply and the car turned over.

SCANDINAVIAN BANK PLANNED

Arrests of Townley and Hastings Are on Charges "Just Scratching Surface"

SECURITY MAINTAINED

Officials Discount Rumor That Immediate Arrest of Large Number Planned

A grand jury probably will be called in Cass county to delve into the affairs of the Scandinavian-American bank as a part of the joint investigation of Cass county authorities and the Attorney-General's department.

Attorney General Sveinbjorn Johnson said today that application probably would be made for the calling of the grand jury at Fargo.

Although Attorney General Johnson is reticent upon matters connected with the Townley and Hastings arrests and declines to comment on them, stating that he does not wish to appear to be trying lawsuits in newspapers, state officials generally take the attitude that the Townley and Hastings charges are "just scratches on the surface" of the affairs of the Scandinavian American bank.

It is known that an exhaustive audit of the bank was made by auditors employed by the receiver, who now is Ole Engen, and it was reported by one investigator that J. J. Hastings, when vice president, issued $130,000 of certificates of deposit in one day to the Nonpartisan league without approval of the board of directors or discount committee for the loan thus negotiated and without collateral or deposit from the league.

Reports have been circulated that 15 or 16 men formerly active in the Nonpartisan league would be arrested. Reports from Fargo say lawyers are expecting many arrests. Officials here decline to comment.

A. C. Townley will be arrested on the embezzlement charge next week when released from Jackson county jail, Minnesota. J. J. Hastings has not yet been located. There was a report that he would voluntarily return to Fargo.

MORTON COUNTY MAN HELD FOR INVADING HOME

Worry Over Court Actions Believed to Have Unbalanced A. W. Hagerott

Fargo, Jan. 28.—Worry over pending civil actions is believed by police to have unbalanced the mind of A. W. Hagerott, secretary of a rural telephone exchange out of Mandan, who yesterday entered the L. H. Thompson home in Fargo and frightened Mrs. Thompson and her daughter, Pearl. He fought with C. W. Litken, a neighbor, and police, before he was over-

Hagerott pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct in police court this morning and the case was adjourned until Monday at the request of the Morton county states attorney who will come to Fargo.

Hagerott is charged with having gained entrance to the basement of the Thompson home where he disrobed and put on overalls and an old hat. He started upstairs when Mrs. Thompson saw him. He took refuge and threatened to shoot with a rusty gun before captured, police say. Mrs. Thompson is suffering from a nervous breakdown.

WALCOTT NOT VERY RELIGIOUS

Although Sixty-Five Years Old, Town Has Just Obtained Its First Sunday School

MAYOR WAS AGAINST IT

Walcott, Ia., Jan. 27.—Walcott is looking up in a religious way. This village, whose chief executive, Mayor Stroblen no less than three months ago boasted that it had never had a church within the limits of the community in the last 65 years now has a Sunday school.

According to Dr. Leroy Coffman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Davenport, Ia., the Sunday school was established as a result of the influence of a little girl who had attended vacation Bible school at his church. Dr. Coffman states:

"The mayor was opposed to its existence but the written permission of all other members of the school board of this city of Walcott in response to general sentiment in its favor, obtained the school building for the Sunday school and it is now an established fact."

Dr. A. Frank Houser, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of Davenport recently made an inspection of this village and reports that: "Some weeks ago a Sunday school was started in Walcott, perhaps the first in all the history of the town now in its 65th year. There was no decided objection to the Sunday School being started by the young people and children of the village but in case a church was started the Mayor threatened to close it."

"We looked into the educational conditions and found that the regular school only this year was advancing to an intermediate grade preparatory to a high school course, which some of the students take in Davenport, twelve miles away. The town is sixty-five years old and has never sent a person to college from its immediate village precincts. Several have taken to academic and normal courses at Cedar and Iowa Falls, but no one entered college. There have been three from the country or farm houses who attended Ames Agricultural college, but I could only learn of one that took the full course."

Dr. Houser also reported that almost the entire community that located here are known to have immigrated to this country from Holstein and the Danish Rhenish borders about 1848. This village, during the world war was known as "Little Berlin."

DISCOUNT RELIEF BEING SOUGHT

Minot, N. D., Jan. 27.—The board of director of the association of commerce at its meeting Tuesday, conferred with Superintendent of Schools L. A. White and J. H. Holton, principal of the high school, relative to the discount that is being taken on teachers' warrants, to see if some relief cannot be afforded teachers. It is probable that a representative will be sent to Bismarck to confer with state officials on a plan that has been suggested. The teacher's salary warrants are now being discounted at 3 per cent and the general warrants 5 per cent. Several conferences have been held with bank officials in Minot relative to the abolition of the discount system on at least the salary warrants of teachers, but thus far no basis of any benefit to teachers has been made.

Waterloo Would Change Its Name To "Fochloo"

Waterloo, Belgium, Jan. 27.—One of the new names suggested for this town is "Fochloo," after Field Marshal Foch. The desire to change the name is due to an effort to avoid recalling "the humiliation of an Allied and friendly power"—the defeat of Napoleon.

A petition is now being circulated among the residents of Waterloo asking parliament to pass a bill abandoning the old name. Several new names besides that of "Fochloo" have been suggested.

INFLUENZA IS INCREASED IN N. Y.

New York, Jan. 27.—Dr. Royal S. Copeland, city health commissioner, last night warned that influenza cases were rapidly increasing in New York, and urged that every precaution be taken against their continued spread.

Continued reports of the spread of the disease in England, France and Italy have caused me apprehension for several weeks," he said. The disease, while not as virulent as in 1918, is prevalent over a larger area in England. I am informed in a cablegram recently sent by the British ministry of health.

Dr. Copeland today dispatched extra inspectors to enforce sanitary laws in restaurants, schools and theaters, and asked for fifty patrolmen to be assigned to the health department to enforce the proper heating of rented homes.

PEDESTRIANS IN PARIS TAKE LONG CHANCES

Parisian Chauffeurs Show Little Regard For Policemen Waving the White Baton

Paris, Jan. 27.—Four hundred persons were killed in Paris streets by automobiles or horse-drawn vehicles, tramways and other means of locomotion in 1921.

The problem of street traffic has been the subject of many investigations and numerous reports and recommendations have been made to Prefect of Police Leaullier.

Some time ago "red bands" about six feet wide were painted across the streets at the intersections of the busiest corners of the city, policemen were stationed at these points to motion automobiles to slow up and pedestrians crossing the streets on the "red bands" were supposed to be in absolute safety.

Pedestrians, however, seemed to think it was below their dignity to walk the "red band" and now they have been abandoned for "zones of safety." The latter will consist of adopting the system in vogue in New York at the busiest corners along Broadway or Fifth Avenue.

Parisian chauffeurs, however, show little regard for the policemen waving the white baton and continually "run past signals" in a way that would bring them before a New York magistrate to be fined. In Paris it brings nothing but good natured banter generally directed against the policeman from pedestrians who may be run over at the next corner.

Former Minister of Justice Nail, of the Clemenceau cabinet, Viscountess de Rohan-Chabot and Countess de Wignacourt were the most prominent persons who were run down and killed by automobiles in the past year.

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It

I tried remedy after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally, I found a treatment that cured me completely, and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, some of them seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute (swelling at the joints) rheumatism, to try the great value of my improved "Home Treatment" for its remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

EVOLVING NEW METHOD TO TAX RAIL FRANCHISE

Tax Commissioner Converse May Yet Be Able To Collect Excise Tax

Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse is contemplating a new attempt to tax the railroads of the state under the capital stock law, following receipt and study of the opinion of the supreme court of the United States which recently handed down an opinion in favor of the railroads in a suit of the state to collect the tax. The new method which may be adopted is that of taxing the railroads on the proportion of the value of their capital stock which the business of the year in North Dakota bears to the entire business of that year. Mr. Converse said first dispatches as to the decision of the supreme court were erroneous in indicating that the court threw out the North Dakota case on the ground that the railroads were in government control at the time the state levied the excise tax. The supreme court, he said, held that the North Dakota statute did not authorize the apportionment of the tax upon the basis of the proportionate value of the property of the railroads within and without the state, which was the basis which had been used in making the assessment.

When the tax was first levied the former tax commissioner used a mileage basis specified in the act. The supreme court of the United States held this a wrong method. The state a second time levied the tax, this time on a property basis. The supreme court holds this method is wrong under the statute.

While it appeared at first that under the decision of the supreme court of the United States there was no statute under which the franchise rights of the railroads can be taxed, it now appears to Mr. Converse after study that there is a possibility of collecting the tax by a new method.

SCHOOL SYSTEM IN RUSSIA HAS GONE TO PIECES

The Poverty of Both Teachers and Pupils Is Something Appalling

Moscow, Jan. 28.—The virtual break down of Russia's school system is one of the tragedies of the general economic situation. Outside of this city, in the dozens of smaller places where the correspondent travelled, the poverty of both teachers and pupils is appalling.

Those in the United States who got their education by tramping for miles through the snows to the little red schoolhouse were far better off than the eager students of this land.

"How can I teach?" asked a woman teacher in Samara. "I have barely enough clothes to cover by body. I sleep in a cold room and I have next to nothing to eat. For months my salary has not been paid. I keep life together by trading in the public market, selling goods on commission. Nor can I expect the children to learn. They come to school hungry, poorly clad and, as the rooms are cold, we go through the motions of learning, that is all. They haven't any books, there is no chalk for the blackboard. The discipline goes to pieces."

In Moscow, teachers' salaries hadn't been paid for many months, until recently, when they were given from 300,000 to 500,000 rubles each as a month's salary, equivalent to the price of ten pounds of butter, half enough to buy a pair of shoes, or one-tenth the cost of a suit of clothes. The men and women teachers are ragged, wearing clothing that is literally falling apart. Some of them have secured the privilege of living in the school buildings where some heat is furnished. The clothing of the pupils is on a par with that of the teacher.

In Moscow schools, notwithstanding, there is good discipline and the pupils show an abiding will to learn. They are astonishingly light-hearted. Except some rather strange religious opinions, they are happy and merry for all their poverty and just like American school children.

They are not all communistic. They make fun of their comrades or teachers who wear long hair and call themselves Bolsheviks. They attend lectures by Lunacharski, Commissar of Schools, or Madame Lenine, or others, that run through a whole afternoon and they do this on empty stomachs and yet do not complain.

INTIMIDATION NOT TOLERATED SAYS READING

Delphi, India, Dec. 28.—Lord Reading, Viceroy of India, set forth the attitude of the Indian government toward the revolutionary elements in a recent address to a delegation from the Punjab Chamber of Commerce. After promising that the full strength of the government would be exerted to prevent disturbances he added at that time, Lord Reading added:

"We have no desire to interfere with the lawful activities of political parties however opposed to us, but, although we are most anxious to redress all legitimate grievances and to remove the grounds of popular discontent, yet we cannot allow any political activity to impose its will upon the country by violence, intimidation, coercion or other unlawful means."

"There is today a natural and legitimate desire on the part of the vast majority of the people that the law should be respected and observed."

"I cannot but think that in some quarters there is a misconception of the position of the government of India. They have, I verily believe, the support of the law-abiding citizens of India."

"It cannot be fairly said that we have abused this power. Indeed we are sometimes criticized for not having sufficiently exercised it and I readily admit that we sought to avoid action which might either be misconceived or misrepresented as too severe or as provocative."

MONTANA LIFE SHOWS PROGRESS

Harry R. Cunningham, vice president and general manager of the Montana Life Insurance company, sees only good times ahead for Montana as indicated in a survey of conditions now existing.

The Montana Life Insurance company's annual statement for the year 1921 again shows a record of substantial progress. While the volume of new business is not as large in comparison with the remarkable production of 1920, the phenomenal year in the entire period of life insurance history, every other branch of the company's business shows consistent and satisfactory increases. The net admitted assets amount to $4,071,209.94, an increase during the year of $667,988.69, while the company's surplus to policyholders which represents security to policyholders over and above the amount required by law, increased to the very satisfactory figures of $708,476.31.

The remarkable showing made by this conservative, well managed life insurance institution in the face of general business depression and unfortunate agricultural, stock raising and mining conditions in the north-west, in which territory the company largely operates, which have prevailed for several years in certain localities and in every section during the last 12 months, proves the loyalty and sentiment of the insuring public towards this company of service and security.

In Other States.

The Montana Life has principally confined its operations to its home state, North and South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho and eastern Washington. Arrangements have been perfected looking towards the development of Minnesota, Colorado, California, Oregon and western Washington during the current year, thus covering the territory reaching from Los Angeles to Minneapolis—a section of country with marvelous resources, developed and undeveloped, and a field unsurpassed in life insurance opportunities.

The officers of the company are A. C. Johnson, president; H. R. Cunningham, vice president and general manager; Dr. Jacob Mills, second vice president; Dr. B. C. Brooke, medical director; Dr. O. M. Lanstrum, assistant medical director; Carl Herfurth, secretary and actuary; Francis A. Howard, treasurer, and H. S. Hepner, general counsel, who together with line and his personal attention is eagerly sought by thoughtful business men. His practical suggestions on life insurance as an investment and protection have aided many over hard roads.

Mr. Cook has recently added Thomas J. Hagarty, V. S. Dingle, Miss Florence Little, and W. F. Krueger to his force. W. F. Brandt of Beach will look after a district including several counties, with Jamestown as his headquarters.

TAYLOR OBTAINS SCHOOL LOAN

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 28.—With the receipt of a warrant for $15,000 covering a loan secured from the state teachers' retirement fund, the board of education of Taylor special school district will be able to take up practically all outstanding obligations against the district within the near future, members of the board announced. It is expected that the warrant will be taken over by the Bank of North Dakota and the cash become available at once.

The loan is secured by $15,000 in bonds which were voted by the taxpayers last fall and will serve to put the district on a cash basis. The rapidity and comparative ease with which the loan was approved and the money made available is taken by many as indicative of a break in the financial stringency.

GETS 30 DAYS IN THEFT CASE

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 28.—J. L. McCutchan, arrested several months ago by Stark county authorities on a charge of petit larceny in connection with the theft of a horse from J. H. Dornal of Belknap, pleaded guilty when his case was called at the opening of the winter term of the Golden Valley county district court at Beach. Immediately afterward he was sentenced by Judge Thomas H. Pugh to 30 days in the Stark county jail, given a fine of $50 and ordered to pay costs in the case, amounting to $250. In the event that the fine and costs are not paid at the expiration of his sentence McCutchan must serve one day additional in jail for each two dollars of the amount assessed.

McCutchan was brought back to Dickinson by Sheriff George Brown and is now confined in the county jail.

PRISON GUARDS ARE DISCHARGED

Two guards who have been employed at the penitentiary for a considerable period have been discharged. It is understood that the action of the warden followed the escape of William Small, negro, in prison from Cass county, who walked out of the gates behind a wagon and then was recaptured. Warden Stair declines to comment on the matter.

APPOINT BOARD TO RULE BAND

Dickinson, N. D., Jan. 28.—After being waited upon by a committee from the Town Criers Club asking that a board of governors be appointed to manage the affairs of the Dickinson Municipal band, the city commission at a special session held last Tuesday suggested the names of five Dickinson residents and submitted them to the band members for their approval. Those suggested by the commission were Mrs. Marjorie Nachtwitz, Miss Marguerite Stewart, W. H. Lennerville, N. F. Bartholome and William Kostelocky. As soon as the tentative board has been approved by the band members it will be given full power to function.

PROF. ROYLANCE LETTERS UNFOLD INNER WORKINGS OF BANK, LEAGUE

Correspondence of Former Publicity Director Tells of Activity of Publicity Department in Spreading Propaganda in Behalf of Bank and League

BOUGHT A PRESS SERVICE

When Wm. C. Roylance, former publicity director of the Bank of North Dakota and also former a connected with northern academicians of the North Dakota Industrial Program and (constitution, Laws and Age groups. Thereafter, we request that you dispose of the remaining material as most convenient to you, taking care that it does not become publicly known that the literature is being destroyed. We are arranging to have the shipment released to you by the express here, and you may consign the pamphlets by freight collect.

On the same day Roylance wrote D. C. Dornan, National Nonpartisan League, Minneapolis, Minn., on the subject stating the bank had guaranteed the express on the consignment.

Literature Shipped Out.

Another letter showing the use made of the bank's department in spreading league propaganda is from A. L. Packard, office manager National Nonpartisan League of Washington, Spokane, Wash. Packard wrote to Roylance as follows:

"We have your letter of the 24th inst., advising that you are sending 100 copies of the booklet on North Dakota.

"We have not yet received these, but as soon as they arrive we will see that they are properly distributed over the state where we believe they will do the most good and will order more if needed."

Roylance also as a contributor to the Minnesota Daily Star, league organ, for which, although he was employed by the Bank of North Dakota, he received compensation. In a letter written on Jan. 11, 1921, Roylance acknowledged receipt of a check.

Letter on Subject.

On August 4, 1920, Prof. Roylance wrote E. J. Costello, managing editor of the Federated Press, Chicago. He said:

Sometime ago the Bank of North Dakota ordered at my request the daily mail service of the Federated Press which has recently been reaching this department promptly. I am unable to find words strong enough to express my approval of your work. You will understand the importance I attach to this service when I say that a few years ago while teaching history and political science in the state university (of Utah) I made an attempt to write a current history of industry and had to give up the project on account of a practically complete lack of any reliable record. The Federated Press Service, if continued will furnish exactly the record of industrial history which will enable the future historian to write a true account and interpretation of the industrial development of our time. In fact the record you are writing is industrial history. It is more than that. It is the record of the struggle of the workers—the great masses of the people—in every country to find a true basis of social organization and a correct method according to which to adjust all the relations of life."

Bank Discontinues.

On Jan. 15, 1921, Prof. Roylance wrote Carroll D. Binder, acting news editor, the Federated Press, saying:

"In an enclosure herewith two short articles for use in the Federated Press Service. I am writing Mr. Costello today with regard to the discontinuance of the service by the Bank of North Dakota, and requesting that the service sheets be sent to me as a contributor. I have explained to him that we sincerely regret not being able to continue our subscription."

Letter to Binder.

Other activities of the publicity department of the Bank of North Dakota as it was connected to the general league movement is contained in a letter Prof. Roylance wrote to Chairman Lieberbach, of the league state committee on April 1, 1921. He said:

"Owing to the necessity for cutting down expenses we have temporarily restricted our mailing list during the last two months. It may be that on this account some of the League organizations have not received as many bank bulletins as they need. We have mailed the usual number of bulletins to precinct captains. If there are any others to whom we could send bulletins, please let us know and we will see that they are supplied."

It has been charged by Secretary Crawford, of the Industrial Commission, that the Bank of North Dakota mailing lists, kept in the "big green box" in the Bank of North Dakota had been prepared by league precinct captains.

Asks Literature Destroyed.

Prof. Roylance shipped a consignment of literature to be used by Claude Townley, brother of A. C. Townley, to Portland, Oregon, which failed to reach Mr. Townley. On Oct. 22, 1921, Roylance wrote to him, cautioning him to destroy the literature but not to let the opposition get hold of it. He wrote Mr. Townley:

"With regard to the shipment of literature made to you sometime ago which arrived too late for your use we should like to have you take it or to the express office, unpack take it and return to us by freight the pamphlets entitled the North Dakota Industrial Program and the (constitution, Laws and Age groups. Thereafter, we request that you dispose of the remaining material as most convenient to you, taking care that it does not become publicly known that the literature is being destroyed. We are arranging to have the shipment released to you by the express here, and you may consign the pamphlets by freight collect."

LONESOME ATOP NEW YORK 'SCRAPER FAMILIES SAY

HELEN MANLEY AND HER DOLL IN HER "BACK YARD" ATOP A NEW YORK 19-STORY BUILDING, AND (BELOW) HENRY OVERBAGH AND HIS WIFE IN THEIR CHICKEN YARD ON AN OFFICE BUILDING ROOF.

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN.

New York, Jan. 28.—Atop of New York—Grows another city.

It is in the heart of the financial district—

Yes it is one of the quietest spots on earth!

It is like a graveyard at night."

Mrs. M. B. Manley shuddered. She has been living on the roof of a 19-story building at 32 Broadway for more than two years.

"My husband is the superintendent. We have to live here in the home the owners provide. But I hate it."

"So do I, ma," chimed in five-year-old Helen. "Only my dolls to play with—and everybody 'way down below."

Her mother smiled.

"We are comfortable, of course. Our apartment is one of the finest in the city—good sized rooms, all conveniences."

"When I get up in the morning I find the milk rolls and newspapers outside the door. It is no different from living uptown except—

"That it is so lonesome."

Fliers, Only Neighbors.

"Our only neighbors are the airplanes."

Mr. Manley came in. He had been looking over his domain of 8,000 population.

"I don't mind it," he said.

"At night when the moon is high and the lights are twinkling on the river and in the air I love to sit out and smoke my pipe. It's like a fair-land here."

Across the canyon—lower Broadway—lives another family.

"Sure, I like living here," said George F. Tanner, superintendent of the Columbia building. "But my wife isn't keen for the idea."

"I should say not," Mrs. Tanner broke in. "It may be all right for millionaires who build their palaces in the air just for a fad. But I don't care for it."

The Tanner home is beautiful. The rooms are much larger than those found in the average apartment.

Too Close to Sun.

"But it is so hot here in the summer," Tanner explained, "that we move off to the country."

"It is all right being above the noise of the city, but it is uncomfortable getting so close to the sun." On Williams street, just off Wall lives Henry Overbagh and family. They don't have to go to the country.

"They have their own farm on their roof."

"I guess this is the highest farm in the world," Overbagh rubbed his hands. "It sure is the life."

"Eight eggs yesterday, nine today and more coming. The hens are laying fine. The air up here seems to agree with them."

Overbagh has charge of the Sullivan building, one of the oldest brokerage office buildings in the city.

"We moved in 11 years ago. My wife and I liked it from the beginning."

"Our boys grew up—and they learned to enjoy it, too. It's never lonesome."

"We are at the heart of things. Our view is better than that on Riverside drive. We see two rivers and the bay."

"My children have never had to play on the streets—

"And we are never bothered by noisy neighbors."

FOLEY'S HAS NEVER FAILED

January is a bad month for influenza, la grippe and bronchial troubles. It is unwise to neglect the slightest cough or cold. Foley's Honey and Tar gives prompt relief, gets right at the trouble, covers raw inflamed surfaces with a healing coating, clears the air passages, eases stuffy breathing and permits sound, refreshing, health-building sleep. Mrs. F. A. Gibson, 1547 College Ave., Racine, Wis., writes: "Foley's has never failed in giving immediate relief and I am never without it."

COLLEGE WITHIN 100 MILES OF ARCTIC CIRCLE

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28.—What is believed will be the world's "last" north university—The Alaska Agricultural College and School of Mines at Fairbanks within a hundred miles of the Arctic Circle—will open its doors next September, Charles E. Bunnell, former federal judge and now president of the institution announced here recently.

The college campus is situated on a tract of land four miles from Fairbanks on the main line of the new government railroad, set aside by congress in 1915. The college itself was formally established in 1917 by an act of the territorial legislature and $60,000 set aside for buildings and equipment. The sum proved inadequate and in 1921 an additional appropriation of $41,000 was made. Most of the operating expense will be met by the territory of Alaska, but $50,000 will be available from federal funds, according to President Bunnell.

The first year's curriculum will offer four courses—agriculture, general science, home economics and mining—under present plans. Special short courses in mining will be given to meet the requirements of prospectors and others unable to attend during the full college year.

The work of the college, President Bunnell predicted, is destined to play an important part in the development of the territory.

"There was under cultivation in the immediate vicinity of Fairbanks last year," he pointed out, "a total of 1,920 acres. This land produced 100 tons of vegetables, 1,006 tons of hay, 4270 bushels of oats and barley, 3,516 bushels of wheat and 392 tons of potatoes. The wheat represents the yield of 183 acres. This yield can be multiplied many times as more land is brought under cultivation through the application of proper farming methods."

President Bunnell will remain "outside" for several weeks securing equipment for the school and employing faculty members.

Germany has 150 movie producing companies.

"Oh, Hateful, Haughty America!"

Professing to work for the peace of the World, America invited the nations to the Washington Conference, where she has "tricked them one and all." This scathing reproach of the Tokyo Yorodzu gives the intensive form of a feeling of disillusion about the Washington Conference that is revealed in some sections of the Japanese press. "Hateful and haughty," indeed, is America, the Tokyo Yorodzu says, picturing Uncle Sam as "an international boor" toward whom "we entertain a grudge" and "have no reason to show good will." Going further, this newspaper adds, "limitation of armaments may be a step toward peace," but "a peace thus brought about is a peace without liberty, a slavish peace. Do the Japanese people wish for such slavish peace, after Japan has been kicked and trampled down by America? We are firmly resolved to reject such a slavish peace."

But not all Japan is so disgruntled with the Washington Conference, as we may judge from the widely circulated and influential Tokyo Jiji, which says: "We should congratulate ourselves on the success of the Washington Conference. It will be too much to call this success a great undertaking to save the world. We therefore express our undivided sense of congratulation and at the same time thank the government authorities at home and abroad for their efforts to bring about the success." For more news of Japanese opinions regarding the Washington Conference, read the article, "Oh, Hateful, Haughty America," in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week.

NO ONE KNOWS

At the North Pole, the thermometer never drops lower than 60 degrees below zero. Frequently it gets that cold in our northwestern states and southern Canada.

Havre, Mont., once registered 68 below zero, the coldest ever recorded in the United States.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, makes the comparison, in his lectures exploding popular beliefs about the supposed frigidity of the Far North.

In northern Alaska and Canada, along the shores of the Arctic Ocean, the snowfall is so light that if you scattered 100 walnuts on the ground in autumn you'd be able to count 90 of them, sticking out of the snow, at any time during the winter.

The record snowfall in the United States was nearly 74 feet. This occurred 15 years ago at Tamarack, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains of California.

In the Klondike gold rush, more prospectors died of summer sunstroke in Dawson than perished in winter cold.

Stefansson thinks that by 1970 Americans will be eating 50,000,000 pounds of reindeer meat a year, shipped from the Far North. Central Alaska soon will be growing all the wheat it needs.

Stefansson believes the Arctic Circle is a coming country. He says it is possible for a tramp to hobo his way to the North Pole and back, carrying only a harpoon, using seal meat for food and seal fat for fuel.

Stefansson's theory is that popular fallacies, about the Far North being a solid iceberg, are part of the false knowledge inherited from the ancient Greeks.

These fallacies have been handed down to us by a chain of textbook writers who re-wrote the "old stuff," posing as authorities on the Far North though they never were there to check up.

How much of our supposed knowledge in other fields is really misinformation inherited from the ignorance of long ago?

When father went to school, he was taught that parallel lines, indefinitely prolonged, never meet. Einstein proves that parallel lines do meet.

Transmutation of metals was universally accepted as impossible a few years ago. Now some scientist say they'll soon be turning lead into gold, though the cost may be prohibitive.

Men used to be imprisoned for saying that the earth is round, not flat. Modern man, no matter how improbable a suggestion may be, says, "I'm open to conviction. Let's see your facts."

Truth comes as man's prejudice against new ideas dies.

SPENDERS

The "ordinary expenses" of the national government in the last six months were nearly $700,000,000 less than in the corresponding six months a year ago.

This is due partly to economy, partly to lower prices. Your Uncle Samuel can buy a lot more with a taxpayer's dollar now than he could 12 months back.

And $1 paid in income tax in 1922 is heavier taxation than $1 paid in 1921, because of increased buying power of the dollar. Honorable Dollar has the elasticity of rubber.

EASY TO REDUCE

It is easy for a fat woman to reduce, says Dr. Lulu Hunt Peters, of Los Angeles. All the fat woman has to do is go on a strict diet.

Everybody knows that. But it's not easy. Medieval torture chambers had nothing to compare with the agony of a dieting fat woman when she sees a box of candy or sniffs the fragrance of a freshly-baked pie or roast of beef.

Trouble with fat women, dieting, is that they take the plunge too suddenly. They should taper off, like the alcoholic getting step by step on the water wagon.

PROFIT

The late George B. Selden, who, after years of labor, developed the first gasoline-propelled auto, is said to have profited less than $200,000 in royalties from his invention.

This recalls Tellier, inventor of cold storage, who died in poverty with an empty stomach. That's generally the way with inventors.

The big profits are in making and selling things, getting them to the public—a harder job than inventing.

TAXES IN ENGLAND

Twenty-three per cent of the incomes of the English people is being taken for national taxes.

If Americans were taxed the same rate, the national debt would be paid off in two years.

Sometimes we forget how well off we are in America. Think of paying 23 cents of every $1 of your pay, to the tax-collector.

PRICES

What you could buy for $1 before the war now costs $1.70 in the average city. This is latest cost-of-living report from the National Industrial Conference Board.

The figure is a lot lower in small towns. The man who insists on living in the city has to pay the piper.

The solution of the city man's cost of living is to move to the farm. He might not get much for his crops, but he at least would be sure of a living.

PRICE

A plate of corn cakes in a city restaurant costs as much as a farmer is getting for a whole bushel of corn, says Capper's Weekly. And it takes 20 carloads of corn to pay for a tractor and a plow of the cheapest make.

With values out of line like this, the farmer cannot buy what the city man manufactures. This is the greatest stumbling block to a return of general prosperity. Time will balance things. Prices, like water, seek their own level.

BOOTLEGGERS

Canadian dry agents complain that their country is being flooded with moonshine liquor from our side of the border. Most of us thought it was a one-way flood, going south.

Canada sends us Scotch and gets colored alcohol in exchange. This is the most interested angle of our much-discussed foreign trade.

Incidentally, another year will find American and Canadian prohibition officials working together hand-in-glove. Canadian border will be the next district to go bone-dry.

BULGARIA'S ENLISTMENTS

Bulgaria, fire-eater of the Balkans, was compelled by the peace treaty to demobilize her entire army.

The treaty gave her permission to raise a volunteer force of 33,000. A high-pressure campaign has yielded only 6200 enlistments.

This proves that the Bulgarians are a peaceful people, tired of war. Like all other people, they want to be left alone, to raise their crops and to educate their children—instead of going out to shoot people they have never seen.

Militarism perishes without conscription. Wars are started and hatred is perpetuated by diplomats, not by the people. No wars at all, when the people of both sides make the decision by vote.

QUESTION OF NAME

A plan has been devised by the experts of the shipping board that is expected to obviate the international embarrassment that would probably grow out of abrogation of the commercial treaties called for by Section 34 of the Jones law. It would also avoid the constitutional difficulty that stands in the way of the preferential treatment to merchandise carried in American bottoms.

The principle laid down by the Underwood tariff law is to be adopted, if the intentions of the administration is correctly interpreted, by approaching the question of subsidies and preferential treatment through the back door. Goods carried in American vessels are to pay the same duty as those carried in competing ships, but a certain percentage of the duty assessed upon American goods is to be set aside in a special fund and turned over to American ship owners and operators.

This arrangement, we are told, is not a subsidy but a scheme of government remuneration by which American merchant vessels are to be compensated for the disadvantage they suffer in competition with the ships of Japan, England and Germany.

One of the merits claimed for the proposal is that it contemplates no further expenditure than already provided in the budget for the shipping board. But in this respect it will be admitted at once that the saving thus claimed is as much a fiction as is the suggestion that the proposal is not a subsidy, but a plan of remuneration. That does not, however, condemn the plan which, it is said, the president will present to congress at an early date.

Once it be admitted that the American ship operators are at a disadvantage in competition with other nations and that a strong merchant marine for the United States is desirable it follows at once that some measures of relief, whether they be called subsidies or bounties, must be provided out of government funds.

No one should be deceived by the possibilities of the plan in question. By whatever name the president chooses to call it, it is a type of government aid to which other nations can resort as readily as the United States. The unexpected will happen if they do not retaliate with measures of discrimination against American goods and American ships entering their ports.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

- FOUR WEEKS MARRIED -

THE FARMER SPEAKS

(Florence Borner.)

I have labored long, and have labored hard,
To carry the world along;
I have borne the load up the weary road,
Till the strength of Youth is gone,
I have not complained tho my back was tired,
And my heart beats fluttered so,
That I tho't each one would be the last,
And my time had come to go.

I have struggled on in the sun and rain,
And have asked of no man odds;
I have braved the fight, and have done the right,
For I worship no selfish gods.
It has been my aim to feed the world,
And to do my duty well,
So I worked along just the best I could,
But somebody's rung the knell.

It seems so queer, and so mighty strange,
That I cannot get in right,
Just why when I raise a bumper crop,
The price sinks out of sight;
While millions are starving across the sea
We are burning corn for our fuel,
And the answer to that is hard to find,
Not one to be learned in school.

They have taken all that I possess,
And driven me from the farm;
For I cannot pay when I've not the price;
And the strength of my good right arm,
Has only gotten me worse in debt
For the more I raised, the less I'd get.

We have had grim strikes of many kinds,
That have left the country bare;
But the farmer stuck while the others struck,
And it doesn't seem quite fair,
That we have got such a poor reward,
For the work we've done has been mighty hard.

Some day shall the world go hungry,
For the food that we have lost;
Some day shall the people waken,
To the truth they must pay the cost;
For a nation's strength lies not in length,
Nor in men who respond to arms;
It is hidden deep in her mellow soil—
And the men down upon the farm.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

TO ALL 100% DEMOCRATS.

Editor Tribune:
I wonder if it would be considered presumptuous for an ordinary everyday working Democrat to inquire of his party leaders something of their plans for the future of the democrat party.

The writer is only one of the thousands of democrats who cheerfully contributed his money, his time, and much labor for several years to save the republican party of this state from bankruptcy in the ruins of 1920. He is a citizen, and as the lesser of two evils, and who now feels that the interests of his own party should have first call.

Lately it is being whispered in political circles that that great war hero, the Honorable A. J. Gronna, is counting as part of his assets in the coming primary the majority of the democrat vote—as controlled by the I. V. A. On the other hand the personal representatives of the great farmer labor leader, the Honorable P. J. McCumber, are claiming a first lien on the democrat vote because of his war record as a Wilson supporter. In my opinion, and I think I but express the views of the average rank and file democrat, if any of our party leaders think that the democracy of North Dakota has no higher mission than to help one faction or the other of the republican party to snatch political plums from the public they are due for a sad and sudden awakening. If they have any doubt as to the true underlying sentiment of the party as to its future work then call a state wide party conference, so we can have our say, and we think we can enlighten and amaze you with the demand for a straight out party fight, and the support that will come to the party in such a fight. The republican pledge of "normalcy" promised us in the last election campaign, unlike most republican campaign pledges, has been fulfilled to the letter, and there are thousands and thousands of former republican voters who do not like the brand and have spent many hours in heartfelt prayer for a return of democrat prosperity.

What say you, Mr. Chairman and members of the Democrat State Central Committee? Shall we meet and confer or not?
Yours,
F. E. ASH.

100% Democrat, a Resident of North Dakota, State and Territory, 42 years.

THE ENDURING THINGS.

Grim war, throughout the ages,
Has racked the world of men;
It stalks through history pages
Again and yet again;
But after each disaster
When fire and slaughter cease,
The world's unconquered master
Is Peace!

Wrong triumphs for a season,
For centuries, perchance;
With might beyond all reason
It blocks the world's advance;
Yet shall its strength diminish
And weaker grow its blight,
The winner—at the finish,
Is Right!

Hate makes of life a burning
And devastating war,
Yet somehow we're discerning
The thing we struggle for,
The vision fine and splendid,
The dream all dreams above;
The victor, when all's ended,
Is Love!

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Again the Twins followed the crane, Buskins coming after. Along the passage of the queer fairy factory they all went until they came to another room bigger than the rest where the most tremendous buzzing and humming and fussing was going on. "What do you make here?" asked Nancy.

"Birds," said Mr. Crane. "Birds!" cried everybody together, and Nick added, "I thought they came out of eggs." "Oh, yes, real ones do," said the crane. "But come in and I'll tell you all about it. You see, we dye feathers of all shades and kinds here and then make them into birds that look so real you can't tell them except that they don't move or sing. Anything from poll-parrots to jack-jaws. They're for hats."

"Hats!" said astonished Nancy. "Yes, to put on hats. The fairies pack boxes with them and put them in the hat stores. And when Mrs. Trim or Miss Brim go to order more humming birds or owls or whatever the fashion is that season on hats, why they find whole new boxes of 'em right on their shelves did they think someone has sent 'em. And so they have, but it's my little fairy good-workers that do it."

"And when there aren't any orders, Mr. Hunter Man has to leave his gun at home and the birds go free. That bluebird there is one Mrs. Richman ordered for her spring bonnet and the lark is for her daughter. They'll wear 'em both, never dreaming that Belinda Bluebird and Lemmy Lark are singing away as happily as ever."

"That's very good work," nodded kind Nancy. "And now, when feathers come floating up to the sky, we'll know where they are going, won't we, Nick; and we'll ask mother to rip up her old pillows and let the feathers fly out. We'll tell her all about the Land of Runaway Feathers."

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is PUNITIVE. It's pronounced pew-ni-tiv with accent on the first syllable.

It means—punishing, inflicting punishment, involving punishment. It comes from—Latin, "punire," to punish.

It's used like this—"If the children are not good their parents will have to take punitive measures."

GOOD ROADS AID PROSPERITY

Instances Cited of Virginia Community Where Great Progress Has Been Accomplished.
That good roads are closely related to prosperity there is no question at all. Only a few years ago this section of Virginia had but one macadam road, one creamery, which went to the wall, and a mere handful of pure-bred dairy cattle, writes C. C. Conger, Jr., of Virginia in the Practical Farmer. One not familiar with the many blessings good roads bring about might wonder in what way good roads would affect creameries and pure-bred cows. Let us take, for instance, Rockingham county, and see just what good roads did in this section in the dairy business alone, to say nothing of the prosperity good roads brought about in various other ways. Previous to our good roads the one creamery did some business during the summer months, when the dirt roads were at their best, but business dwindled to nothing during the winter months because farmers could not get over the roads to deliver their milk. The creamery finally closed down for the lack of milk. About this time a mere handful of progressive farmers began a movement for better roads, calling a meeting at a little village centrally located in the county. The attendance was good, and a great deal of "good roads" enthusiasm was aroused. It was the first step in better roads that gained impetus by leaps and bounds. Today, in a few short years, we have a network of fine macadam roads throughout the entire county. Following good roads came creameries. They sprang up over night like mushrooms, till today the county is dotted with creameries, the sight of which does not look much like closing down for the lack of milk, particularly during the early hours of the day, when auto trucks are pouring in from the country, bringing milk from every nook and corner of the county. Pure-bred cows came with the creameries, till today scrub stock no longer dominates our farms. Ask any farmer why he disposed of his scrub cows, replacing them with pure breeds, and he will tell you the creameries did it. Ask him what brought the creameries, and he will tell you better roads. While milk has slumped somewhat at times in this section, it has never halted the dairy business, and farmers are now reporting fair profits in dairying. The wealth that good roads has brought to this section in dairying alone is astonishing. We are striving for more wealth and prosperity by building still more good roads. Experience has taught us that good roads, wealth and prosperity go hand in hand.

Don and Hugh had been discussing their father. An argument arose. To prove his point, Don exclaimed, "Well, I guess I ought to know. I've known my father nearly three years longer than you have!"

LINES TIGHTEN IN STATE RACE IN BASKETBALL

Fargo and Devils Lake Game Will Give Line on the Northern Teams

OTHER CONTESTS ARE ON

Devils Lake and Fargo high school basketball teams will play one of the most important games of the season interscholastic contests during the week at Fargo during the coming week. The game is a first meeting between a representative team of the Northern and Southern parts of the state as represented by teams along the lines of the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific.

Devils Lake has lost to Minot on the latter's floor in a close game and these two teams seem to be about as good as anything in the Northern part of the state with the possible exception of the Grand Forks team which Devils Lake meets in the following week and Fargo has lost to Bismarck in a game that showed that its rather poor start was not a criterion of the play the team was capable of and has won from Mandan and Dickinson, giving the latter a standing for the southern part of the state.

Jamestown, whose standing has not been definitely shown thus far, in spite of its game with Fargo, will travel west for a week end engagement with Bismarck and Mandan. Play of these two games will probably give the six teams along the line of the Northern Pacific, Fargo, Valley City, Jamestown, Bismarck, Mandan and Dickinson a fairly good idea of their respective abilities. Bismarck and Mandan have had the advantage of meeting the easterners on their own floors, with the exception of one Bismarck-Valley City battle, the two teams breaking even, each winning at home.

In the college contests, State School of Science has a two days trip, meeting the Valley City Teachers College team and the Minot Normal team on their home floors. Ellendale Normal, in its early schedule announced a four days trip into South Dakota for the first of February, meeting Huron College, Brookings, Eureka and Aberdeen Normal in the order named.

The games announced for this week are:

- January 30, N. D. A. C. at Fargo, Kaysees.
- February 1, Ellendale at Huron College, Hunter at Hillsboro.
- February 2, Ellendale at Brookings, State Science at Valley City, Forestry Normal at Egeland, Stanley at Berthold.
- February 3, Ellendale at Eureka Normal, Fargo College at Jamestown College.
- State Science at Minot Normal, Beach at Wahau, Mont, Jamestown at Bismarck, Antler at Bottineau, H. S. Devils Lake at Fargo, Mandan at Dickinson, Stanley at Donnybrook, Ellendale at Oakes, Grand Forks at Gratton, Kenmare at Minot, Larimore at Lakota, Langdon at Mayville, Napoleon at Ashley, Casselton at Valley City, Lidgerwood at Wahpeton, Culbertson at Williston, Courmay at Wimbeldon, Wymdime at Hankinson.
- February 4, Ellendale at Aberdeen, St. Olaf at N. D. A. C., Hunter at Northwood, Jamestown at Mandan, Devils Lake at Michigan, Stanley at Bowbells.

BASKETBALL IS ON TONIGHT

Bismarck and Mandan high school basketball teams clash in the big game of the season in the Slope district tonight, in the Mandan gymnasium.

VALLEY CITY BEATS FARGO

Valley City, N. D., Jan. 28.—Valley City high school's basketball team defeated Fargo high school, 20 to 13, in Valley City last night.

KRAUSE MEETS TOUGH OPPONENT

Hazen, N. D., Jan. 28.—Battling Krause was clearly the victor over H. Collis in their bout here last night, but he failed to put Collis out. They went 10 rounds. Collis is one of the biggest fighters in the Slope district, being 6 feet two inches in height and weighing probably 185. The bout was good throughout. They met once before in a six-round draw.

gren and Ralph McCann of Sanger. The bout is booked for 10 rounds of boxing. Two preliminary matches will be put on, one a boxing match between Walter Williams and Archie Nelson and a wrestling match between John Williams and O. H. Steffert. Other events may be added which will be announced later.

CORNCOB'S NEW VALUE

Racine, Wis., Jan. 28.—The common corn cob which heretofore has been a waste product on the farm may come to be considered a valuable article of commerce as a result of experiments just conducted by Professors E. B. Fred and W. H. Peterson of the University of Wisconsin and reported to the Wisconsin Agricultural Corn cobs, it was discovered are rich in acetic and lactic acids both of which are used extensively in the industries.

When the corn cobs are partially water soaked and inoculated with the bacteria lacticobacillus pentococcus, equal quantities of acetic and lactic acid are produced. If the yields on a commercial scale are equal to the laboratory results, every ton of corn cobs will yield more than 300 pounds of acetic and 320 pounds of lactic acid.

There are produced in the United States alone more than 20,000,000 tons of corn cobs yearly. A small amount of these are used for pipes or in feed but the great bulk usually is discarded.

Acetic acid is used largely in the dye industry and lactic acid is extensively used in the leather industry. Both also are used in many technical operations in various other industries.

New Envoy To Belgium One Of Youngest Diplomats

By NEA Service

Washington, Jan. 28.—Under-secretary of State Henry P. Fletcher, whose appointment as ambassador to Belgium is announced here, is one of the world's youngest but most widely experienced diplomats.

Though Fletcher is not yet 50, he's filled American diplomatic posts on three continents with conspicuous success.

Fletcher was born at Green Castle, Pa., April 10, 1873. He was graduated at Chambersburg (Pa.) Academy and later admitted to the bar.

He practiced law till the outbreak of the Spanish-American War. Then he served with the Rough-Riders under Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

After the Filipino insurrection Fletcher entered the diplomatic service, first as second secretary of the legation to Cuba. He served there until 1903, then went to Peking as second secretary of the United States legation there.

In 1905 he was diplomatic second secretary to the American legation in Portugal. After two years he went back to Peking as first secretary to the legation. But he soon was appointed American charge d'affairs for China.

World powers at that time were in a scramble for railway concessions in China. Fletcher impressed the State Department at home with the sagacity of his dealings with the Japanese and British diplomats.

In 1909 Fletcher became extraordinary minister plenipotentiary to Chile. Then he was made ambassador to Chile. His efforts to allay South American distrust of the United States again attracted attention at home.

Though Fletcher was a Republican, President Wilson in 1916 appointed him ambassador to Mexico. Fletcher held this post four years, then resigned.

Early last year President Harding named him as undersecretary of state.

KLEIN STORE IS BEAUTY MODEL

Arranges Tailorign Display in New Show Rooms

On the corner of Fifth and Broadway, next door to his present location, E. B. Klein has arranged a tailoring display embodying all the latest and newest ideas of the tailoring business. The interior is decorated in old ivory, with the newest ideas for draping woollens. The lighting effects are worthy of particular notice. The window backgrounds are composed of sectional art screens finished in antique old gold, with dark blue relief. Other window fixtures to match. When asked the reason of the change Mr. Klein said: "Since the construction of our new and modern cleaning plant opened last July, the cleaning business has grown to such proportions that I find it necessary to make additional space for our finishing department. The future outlook of business being such that will warrant a preparation of better times coming, I feel that by making my change in the dull season will prepare me for the rush of the spring and summer business which is sure to come. The interior of the finishing room and office of the City Cleaners and Dyers will undergo a complete redecorating and rearrangement, which when complete will make a valuable addition as well as general appearance to the present store room.

AT THE MOVIES

JACKIE COOGAN IS REAL STAR

Jackie Coogan, who was Charlie Chaplin's bosom companion in "The Kid," is a star in his own name in "My Boy," which was at the Eltinge last night and is at that theater again tonight. Jackie is a star in his own right as well as name, and the photo-play revealed merriment from start to finish, with an occasional tug at the heart-strings.

Jackie is just a mite of a chap, but he provides entertainment for old and young alike in "My Boy." Grandfathers and grandsons can laugh alike at the antics of the youngster in a production which is wonderfully directed.

The appealing little character seemed to walk right into the hearts of the audience and stay there throughout the production.

JOHN GILBERT WON HIS SPURS IN "SHAME"

John Gilbert has been promoted to stardom by William Fox because of his vivid acting as David Fledgling in the Fox special "Shame," which will begin a run at the Capitol theater Monday.

Gilbert was born in Logan, Utah, in 1895, and almost immediately went on the stage with his parents, needing no training to play the part of a baby effectively. Later he played boys and juveniles, remaining in stock even through his school years, and in road plays until 1915. He considers his best part on the speaking stage to have been that of the juvenile in "The Man From Home."

Gilbert entered the motion picture field largely because it gave him an opportunity to have a home, which his work with traveling companies had prevented. He is unmarried.

Of Irish descent on his father's side and Scotch on his mother's, John Gilbert is black-haired and darkly handsome. He made an immediate success in motion pictures with Maurice Tourneur, in "White Heather," "Glory of Love," and other pictures.

SPENT HALF HER TIME IN BED

Farmer's Wife Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman

Carter's Creek, Tenn. — "Three years ago I was almost an invalid. I spent half of my time in bed, being afflicted with a trouble which women of a certain age are apt to have. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am a well woman now and have been for two years. I can work as well as any one who is younger and as I am a farmer's wife I have plenty to do for I cultivate my own garden, raise many chickens and do my own housework. You may publish this letter as I am ready to do anything to help other women as I have been so well and happy since my troubles are past."—Mrs. E. T. GALLOWAY, Carter's Creek, Tenn.

Most women find plenty to do. If they are upset with some female ailment and troubled with such symptoms as Mrs. Galloway had, the smallest duty seems a mountain.

If you find it hard to keep up, if you are nervous and irritable, without ambition and out of sorts generally, give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. We believe it will help you greatly, for it has helped others.
